Mariner's Chapel, Wilmington-J. N. Andrews. THE LECTURE ON MONDAY NIGHT .-- In the Lecture of the Rev. John S. Long, delivered in the Methodist Church on Monday evening, the citizens of Tarboro' were treated to an intellectual repast, which in the elements of true eloquence and in the counties through which he may pass. beauty of style will rank side by side with the efforts of the best orators of the day. While an audience, most respectable as to numbers and character, assembled to hear the lecture and assist with their different mites in promotion of the noble and mendable spirit to encourage, develop and commendable object for which Mr. Long excite a generous emulation in the literary a Special Train will leave here today at 4 Plaster, Peruvian Guano, Baugh's lectures, we must still express our regret and disappointment that more of our citizens did not turn out and encourage by | prizes, viz: $100 for the best original Stotheir presence and donations a cause, ry; $75 for the second best; $50 for the which even in these straitened financial days, should commend itself to the consideration of every one.

"Ethics of History" was the theme of discourse, and in climinating and illustrating the manifold causes and results of the different actions of famous personages, as exemplified in the pages of history, the Lecturer displayed a research that attracted and oft times flights of eloquence that held spell-bound the senses and imagination of his hearers. We feel entirely incompetent to give even a slight synopsis of his discourse, and will not do Mr. Long the injustice to attempt it.

Mr. L. has been delivering his lecture throughout the State and we are glad to learn from him, that, considering the general scarcity of money, his success has been most encouraging. During the recent session of the Conference in Wilmington, he delivered it by request, and realized more than two hundred dollars.

With such an able and eloquent advocate, our friends in Washington may soon hope to repair the ravages of war, and once again have the privilege of hearing their faith proclaimed within the walls of a church worthy of the place and community.

THE NEW CHURCH, SERVICES, &c .- A large, intelligent and interested corgregation attended the dedication services at Calvary church on Sunday last and followed with attention and solemnity the services incident thereto.

The learned Pastor delivered an eloquent and touching sermon upon the occasion, invoking the blessing of the most High upon the new edifice thus dedicated to His service. The internal arrangements of the building are most excellent, and correponds well with the majestic appearance of the exterior, while the whole combined, rivaling in beauty and style the most noted churches of cities, reflects great credit upon the liberality of its congregation. A simplicity and pureness of architecture marks the whole, which fully impresses one with the fact that it is indeed a house of God and commands the high respect due such holy precincts. Owing, we suppose, to the haste necessarily used in making other preparations for services on Sunday, the organ was not in condition for use and consequently the choir were compelled to rely upon themlves for music, unaccompanied by the elodious notes of the instrument. Even with this disadvantage to labor under, the different chants and psalms were generally well executed, adding solemnity and beauty to the ceremonies. pearance of the Bishop.

While it is true that the planters of Edgecombe are more cramped in their operations throughout this portion of North Carolina, than they have ever before been, and the scarcity of money is more severely felt in every branch of business, still it has not had the effect of so greatly reducing the price of this great necessary of life, as stated by
